

Ryan Russell <russell@spumato.com>

(No Subject)

May 12, 2015 7:38 PM

A Poem for Our Star Student, love Mommy & Daddy

For Owen Russell, our true Super STAR,
Your love and light do shine from afar!

Your sweet, gentle spirit, so loving, so kind.
Always a giggle, smile, or laugh you DO find!

You used to be an Angry Bird, exploding piggies galore!
Now it's Minecraft, and Terraria, too, with spiders, creepers, and more!

You sing, you dance, you swim, run, and play,
It's a forever fun ride with Owen every day!

With dear Mrs. Hicks, you've become, oh so smart!
Reading, math, science, history, spelling, and even art!

Green is your best color, when talking about DOJO!
If Mommy sees red, your toys and games will GO GO!

You have so many talents, and skills, it is true,
but your generous heart is pure through and through.

You help friends in need, you help strangers too.
Even giving your birthday gifts to buy hungry people food.

Owen, we love you, more than words can say.
Our soon to be 2nd grader, is well on his way!

Enjoy your special week, you deserve all this and more!
Your future is bright, with many adventures in store!